Teachers interested in the integration of ICT into the curriculum know that creating an environment that’s ideal for growth is important and that attending to the continuing needs of the learner to sustain that growth is just as vital.

Through keynote presentations that will challenge one’s thinking, traditional hands-on technology workshops, e-spot tasters and a significant hands-on unconference-like opportunity, delegates will be exposed to innovative ideas to Cultivate Learning in their school.

Mark Scott

Operating on the principle that organisations must adapt or die in an era of massive technological change, Mark Scott, Managing Director of the ABC, has overseen the transformation of the ABC from a traditional broadcaster to a digital one. Mark will offer insights into how he allowed the ABC to flourish through such substantial change.

James Dalziel
